MANTUA, October 13.

THE 24th inſtant Marſhal Daun gave private Orders to the ſeveral Colonels and Commanders of Regiments, to march immediately after the Beating the Retreat, directing them their reſpective Diſtances. They marched accordingly, leaving a Man at each Tent, with Drummers here and there to beat as uſual, in order to perſuade the Enemy that the Army was quiet in its Camp, with Orders however to joine the Troops as ſoon as ever they heard their Cannonading at Day-break. As a further Precaution to conceal their March, ſeveral ſmall Detachments were likewiſe ordered into the Woods on the Side of each Wing to lurk and make a Noiſe, which had alſo a very good Effect. After theſe Diſpoſitions were attacked the Enemy the 15th at Break of Day, forced their Entrenchments, and gained a compleat Victory.

Paris, Oct. 17. As the Engliſh are getting ready another formidable Armament to avenge the Blood of their Countrymen that were ſlain at the Affair of St. Cas, and we know not againſt what Part of our Coaſts they intend to wreak their Revenge, we are putting ourſelves in a poſture of Defence; but more particularly at St. Malo's, as we are afraid the Enemy have a Deſign upon that Port.

Breſt, Oct. 9. The Squadron being out here conſiſts of the Hector and Conquerant, of 74 Guns each; the Foſſe, the Valiant, the Brilliant, and the Achilles of 64 Guns; the Aumpton of 50, the Zephir Frigate of 30, the Siren, the Fleur de Lys, and the Sauvage of 30; and it is ſuppoſed it will be joined by two more Ships of the Line. This Squadron, which will ſoon be ready to ſail, is to be commanded by M. de Roquefeuille, and is thought to be deſigned for our American Iſlands. As it is imagined our Men of War that are at Quebec will not winter there, we expect News of them very ſoon.

LONDON, October 15.

The following Letter, juſt received by Lord ——

FABIUS.

Mr. Loſe,

"I was a Lieutenant when General Stanhope took Minorca; for which he was made a Lord. I was a Lieutenant when General Blakeney loſt Minorca; and for which he was made a Lord. I am a Lieutenant ſtill."—— Yours, &c.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Edinburgh, to a Merchant in London.

"His Majeſty was hiſſed upon the 4th inſtant (September) late at Night, by the People aſſembled and armed with Blunderbuſſes, as he was returning in a Chaiſe from [illegible] with one Servant in the Chaiſe, a Poſtboy, and a Servant behind. It is ſaid all the Aſſailants fired at the Chaiſe, killed the Poſtboy, wounded the Driver dangerouſly, and killed the Beaſt under him; that one of the Balls paſſed through his Majeſty's Arm, and three others lodged in the Back, and that the Servant in the Chaiſe was wounded in ſeveral Parts of his Body. His Majeſty has ever ſince been confined to his Room, and nobody but the prime Miniſter, the Chancellor, Surgeons, and one or two particular Perſons, are permitted to go near him. The Country, we are told, is appointed Regent during his Majeſty's Illneſs. It is ſaid the Night after this unfortunate Accident a diſtreſſed Lady was forced with her Children out into ſeveral Places for Peace and Safety, leaving her Houſe in a Deſpair, as a little Diſtance from the Place where his Majeſty was aſſaulted."

Extract of a Letter from Dartmouth, dated October 29.

"Yeſterday came in here the Mary Pink, Capt. [illegible] from Rhode Iſland, who failed [illegible] Bilbo. He ſpoke an Iriſhman, that a French Man of War, of 60 Guns, and a Frigate, [illegible] with 5 Sail more, Men [illegible] Company, fell in with our Carolina Fleet, [illegible] and took the Winchelſea, and ſeveral others. Capt. Rotheram ranſomed for 1400 l. He ſays he gave Chace to the Blandford, but believes did not take her. Thoſe that eſcaped are reſolved to be more [illegible]

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, November 5.

"Thurſday Evening arrived his Majeſty's Ship Somerſet, from Briſtol Channel, with the Carnarvon Indiaman, homeward bound, retaken from the French by Admiral Boſcawen.

"The Winchelſea of 20 Guns, taken by the French ſome Weeks ago, and retaken by two Engliſh Privateers, arrived at Spithead the ſame Day under Jury Maſts, and ſailed into the Harbour.

"The ſame Day ſeveral of the Virginia Fleet arrived at Spithead. They met with bad Weather, many of them are damaged, and ſome miſſing."

St. JOHN's, in Antigua, November 18.

We have Advice, by Way of St. Euſtatia, that the French Squadron which was lately attacked by his Majeſty's Ship Buckingham, Capt. Tyrrell, have been met with, attempting to get into the Grenades; which, it was thought, they would not be able to effect. The Floriſſant was in Tow of the two Frigates, with 7 Feet Water in her Hold, and all her Guns and Stores taken out. ——This Account from Hence, that by a ſubſequent and more Particular, their Ships were ſtill to be ſeen, and either taking or deſtroyed. —— Every additional Circumſtance we hear, relative to the Buckingham's Engagement, only tends more to the Honour acquired by Capt. Tyrrell, and thoſe brave Men who fought under him. —— Poſterity will hardly believe, that the Buckingham, of 60 Guns, when greatly ſhort of her Complement of Men, attacked and defeated the Floriſſant of 70 Guns, and upwards of 900 Men, aſſiſted by one 64 Gun, and upwards of 300 Men, aſſiſted by one Ship of 38 Guns, and another of 28, but fully manned. At leaſt, it will be ſaid, if Pity is ever that "ſo much Gallantry ſhould not have been properly "ſupported; and not in any Degree here follow a "Sacrifice to ſo great a Diſproportion of Strength."

Laſt Wedneſday Evening the Privateer Ship Britannia, Capt. M'Pherſon, brought in a Schooner, which he took on her Paſſage from St. Euſtatia to Guadaloupe.

The Privateers Lyon and Juno, belonging to this Place, have taken a Schooner, richly laden, from St. Domingo to St. Euſtatia, and carried her into Anguilla.

Nevis, 25. On Thurſday Afternoon his Majeſty's Ship Buckingham, came to an Anchor in St. John's Road. About 5 o' Clock Capt. Tyrrell came aſhore in his Barge, attended by Captain Troy, and ſeveral other Gentlemen: As he paſſed up the Harbour he was ſaluted by every Veſſel that had Guns, and by Guns placed upon ſeveral of the Wharfs for that Purpoſe. A great Concourſe of People attended the Place where he landed, and in Hon. was proclaimed their Approbation of his Conduct in the late Engagement between the Buckingham and 3 French Men of War. The Streets he went thro' were lined with People; and never could Men teſtify a greater Senſe of Gratitude and Thankfulneſs for an Action which will be ever memorable in the Britiſh Annals.

Capt. M'Pherſon lately took two French Privateers off Barbuda; one of which he ſent to Philadelphia and the other to St. Kit's. He has alſo taken a Spaw laden with Salt, belonging to Montſerrat, ſaid to have been purchaſed with the neat Proceeds of the Free-maſon Privateer, which was ſome Time ago ſold to the Enemy, reſide ſtood. Two Days before Capt. M'Pherſon came in, he fell in with a Brigantine and two other large French Privateers off Barbuda; two of which he deceived pretty near, but being impatient to lay hold of his Enemies, he tacked and began to chace a little one ſoon, and preſently after a ſudden Guſt of Wind carried away two of his Topmaſts, which gave the Enemy an Opportunity of getting off, and conſequently ſaving a good many Men.

CHARLES-TOWN, in South Carolina, December 11.

The laſt Accounts we have from Mr. Cherokee are, that he had ſhortly before his Veſſel, out of the Privet, and had gone from the Capes of Delaware, about a Fortnight ſince, to the Southward; and that ſhe had only 30 Heads on board. The great Succeſs this Ship has met with in America, will probably induce other European French Privateers, of like Force, to try their Fortunes in theſe Seas the enſuing Year; but it is to be hoped, that no Colony on this Continent, will ſhortly be unprovided with a good Province Veſſel; and if not, that a ſufficient Number of his Majeſty's Ships will be properly ſtationed, and ordered to cruize UPON, and not OFF, theſe Coaſts, to prevent any Injuries the Trade might otherwiſe ſuffain from the hitherto uncurbed Inſolence of the Monſieurs.

A French 50 Gun Ship is ſaid to have lately arrived at Cape-Francois, and to have carried in with her a New-York Privateer Brove of 14 Guns.

December 25. On Wedneſday his Majeſty's Ship Zephir, Capt. Greenwood, arrived here from Cape-Feat, we earern. They did not obſerve any Thing like an Enemy on our Coaſts; and, from the laſt Accounts, we have no Reaſon to conclude that any of the Enemy's Privateers either are, or for ſome Time paſt have been nearer us, than Monſieur Chaſteran, off the Capes of Delaware.

BOSTON, January 15.

Laſt Saturday Night Capt. John Malcom arrived here in 20 Days from Louiſburg, who informs us, That the Day he came out he met his Majeſty's Ship Arundel commanded by Capt. Mantz, who deſired of him a Pilot that was acquainted with the Harbour of Louiſburg, which he put on board; Capt. Martin informed him he had a large Quantity of Money on board for the Pay of the Troops there.

Capt. Bartlet informs, That three Days after he left Briſtol, off Uſhant, he fell in with about 145 Sail of Engliſh Men of War and Tranſports, ſtanding to the Southward. 'Tis ſuppoſed to be the Fleet bound to Martinico as mentioned in our laſt by Captain M'Taggart.

NEW-YORK, January 15.

The Mary, a Flag of Truce, William Brown, Maſter, arrived here laſt Friday, in 20 Days Paſſage from Port-au-Paix, in Hiſpaniola, which Place ſhe left the 24th of December. By whom we learn, That it was currently reported there, that a French Frigate of 36 Guns, from the Cape, had put into Monti-Chriſto, and deſtroyed 13 or more Engliſh Veſſels, then lying there.

Jan. 22. Monday laſt, on ſearching the Houſe of James Wilſon, of this City, Taylor, beſides the Sum of 1800 l. the Property of Captain Iſaac Sears, was found concealed in a Hole in the Wall of ſaid Houſe; and Wilſon being immediately apprehended, was carried before an Alderman, where he confeſſed that he robbed Captain Sears on the Night of the 9th inſtant, without any Aſſiſtance. He was duely committed to Goal, and being brought into Court on Wedneſday, pleaded Guilty, received Sentence of Death on Saturday, and is to be executed on Friday, the 9th of February next.

Friday Afternoon Major General Abercrombie embarked on board his Majeſty's Ship Kennington, Maximilian Jacobs, Eſq; Commander, and ſails for England this Day.

PHILADELPHIA, January 31.

Extract of a Letter from Trinity, in Newfoundland, dated in October.

"On the 5th of Auguſt the Eagle, a French Man of War, of 60 Guns, was wrecked on a Rock going thro' the Straights of Belleiſle for Quebec. The Veſſel and Cargo entirely loſt; but the People all ſaved, as they were within three Miles of an Iſland. She had [illegible] Guns mounted, her lower Tier being [illegible] Guns, and Heavy Cannon, [illegible] of Small Arms, Cloathing [illegible] Tierces of Pork, 700 Barrels the was very deep loaded with Provisions, Warlike Stores, &c. The Captain said, she was the most valuable Ship that had sailed from France for Quebec this War. This Account may be depended on, as the Eagle had taken the Ship Nugent of Bristol on the 1st of July, bound to Boston with Bale Goods, &c. They burnt the Ship, and 23 of the Crew were on board the Eagle at the Time she was lost. Seven of the Englishmen took away a Boat in the Night, and left them, and in twenty Days arrived at an English Settlement, on Newfoundland. By their Calculation they were eighty Leagues within the Streights, and One Day from a Place where the French have a Seal Fishery, when they left them. The Frenchmen were waiting for a Vessel, coming from Quebec, to take them in, a Boat having been dispatched away for that Purpose."

January 25. "On Sunday the Seventh Instant, the House of Moses Dickey, in Fulton, Lancaster County, was burnt to the Ground, when his Wife, the Child and a Person that work'd with him, were burnt to Death; another Child, by jumping out of a Window, broke its Thigh Bone; and a Third so badly burnt, that it was thought it could not live. Mr. Dickey was the only Person that escaped, but was without being a good Deal scorched. He lost likewise several Hundred Pounds in Money, and every Thing that belonged to the House. His Mill and Outhouses were saved."
